

SPECIAL PROFILES SINCE 1773

VOL-STAHL
GROUP OF COMPANIES

Transport manager with management responsibility (m/f/d)

 VOL-STAHL GmbH  Suwałki (Polen)  Full-time/40h  As of now

The VOL-Stahl Group of Companies supplies a wide range of industries with high-quality hot-rolled, cold-rolled and cold-drawn special profiles with complex cross-sections. With our fully integrated production process - from melting to the finished individual profile - we guarantee products to meet the highest demands. Tradition, innovation and state-of-the-art plant technology have been the basis of our products and our success for more than 244 years. The worldwide availability of our products is rounded off by our international sales network.

YOUR TASKS:

- As a manager responsible for the areas of scheduling and drivers
- Budget responsibility for the complete transport area
- Regular meetings and employee discussions
- Ensuring all task-related, legal regulations, as well as the necessary documentation requirements
- Acquisition of new customers, customer care and contact maintenance, as well as the expansion of existing customers
- Selection, negotiation and implementation of new transport customers and service providers
- Compliance / control and participation in quality management
- Constant exchange and communication with other areas of the group of companies
- Direct reporting to the management of the group of companies

YOUR PROFILE:

- Completed studies / training in the field of transportation or logistics / similar qualifications in this area.
- Several years of professional experience in the forwarding industry
- Experienced intrinsically motivated manager, with active and successful leadership skills
- Management experience in the areas of fleet and transport
- Customer and service-oriented approach with a commercial focus
- Open to new business ideas and innovative solutions
- Confident knowledge of English (good knowledge of Russian is an advantage)
- Knowledge of the international transport industry and expert knowledge of international transport modalities
- Sensitivity and open-mindedness in dealing with different cultures
- Goal-oriented, resilient and strong implementation skills
- Structured work and very good communication skills

YOUR PROFIT:

- Permanent employment contract with career plan
- Responsible position in the transport management with freedom to bring in new ideas
- Cooperation in a future-oriented, constantly growing company
- Respect and team spirit on all levels
- Fair salary according to individual agreement
- Access to corporate benefits
- Company events

Do you meet our requirements, do you like to work in a dynamic team and do you want to work for a family-oriented and successful employer? Then we look forward to receiving your application, stating the earliest possible starting date and your salary expectations, preferably by e-mail to Ms. Elena Belikova: ebelikova@vol-stahl.com